Local Area Information

Tandderwen is a quiet, family run park, catering for those of you who are looking for a peaceful, rural but not isolated, setting for you holiday home.

All the holiday homes on the Park are used by the owners and their family only. There is no subletting allowed and nor do they allow dogs.

The park is surrounded by green fields but is only two and a half miles from Llandudno centre and half a mile from local shops and about one mile from the nearest beach.

There are several local pubs and restaurants within walking distance, and Tandderwen is only one and a half miles from Rhos-on-Sea with its picturesque harbour and beach, its golf course and cricket club.

In Llandudno, besides a good shopping centre, there is the North Wales Theatre, a ski-slope, a museum, the Great Orme's head and copper mines, to name but a few. In Colwyn Bay (two miles to the East) there is a fine sandy beach, a good leisure centre and in the hills behind a fascinating Zoo.

The location gives people an excellent base to explore Snowdonia, Anglesey, and the Llyn Peninsula as well as, in the other direction, the less spectacular but quieter areas of the Clwydian Range. Nearer to hand is the historic walled town of Conwy and the Conwy valley, home of the National Trust's Bodnant Gardens, Trefriw Woollen mills, and the spectacular scenery of Betws-y-coed.
