Park Description

Tyddyn Llan is a privately owned family run caravan park which has been under the same ownership since being established in the 1950's. It is situated in the picturesque village of Dwygyfylchi, which lies within Snowdonia National Park in Conwy, North Wales at the foot of Sychnant Pass.

The park is a few miles from Conwy town centre, around 8 miles from the town of Llandudno and a great base for the North Wales coast and is the perfect place to own your holiday home, nestled below Mynydd y Dref (Conwy Mountain).

Most of the pitches benefit from their own individual garden. All caravans are privately owned and restricted to owner only use & occupation to maintain the tranquility of the park. The park is ideally suited for people looking for a secluded, quiet setting that has easy access to local facilities as well as the North Wales coast.
